I'm fallin behind
This time it's all over
I've had enough
Cause I don't have to take it don't know how to brake it
But I'll do my part
No chance alone
No chance at all
But I wont lay me down
And let them win
I won't surrender
I never wanted it to end this way
Cause when the sun goes down
The moon comes up and new light shivering
But it's weaker than before
Now it's allready gone away
I'm not the one who shall upend this world
Or be in position
to make a difference
I'm just expected to hang along

Nowhere to go
I got nothing to say
I got nothing to win
Powerless to the bone
But hell I'll try
No chance at all
No chance alone
But I won't lay me down
And let them win
I won't surrender
I never wanted it to end this way
Cause when the sun goes down
The moon comes up and new light shivering
But it's weaker than before
