In this world I've gained my knowledge,
And for it I've had to pay,
Though I never went to college
Still I've heard the poets say,
Life is like a mighty river,
And it flows from day to day,
And men are vessels cast upon it,
Some are thrown and swept away.

Do your best by one another,
Making life a pleasant dream,
Not a friend and not a shilling
Pulling hard against the stream.

In this life I've endured sad sorrow
I've felt kindness slip away
I have seen a dark tomorrow
Still I search and find my way
Often we will feel discouraged
Scared of life and scared of death
But in true friends we find true courage
And in strength we take our breath

So do your best by one another,
Making life a pleasant dream,
Lend a hand to help your brother
Pulling hard against the stream.
