Tolkki)

Stars shine bright in the sky

Warning you gonna die

Freezing winds blows across the snow plains

Here all alone

Marching towards the front line

Hoping this is the last time

Fighting for what I don't know

Praying something I can't conceive

Wont you please save my soul

Trying to find my way home

Kill or be killed is the law in this mad game

Won't you please save my life

I'm not ready to die

Just trying to find my way back to home again

What is wrong with the mankind?

All those things that you can find

We just waste our time

War is just another crime

Marching towards the front line

Hoping this is the last time

Fighting for what I don't know
Praying something I can't conceive
Wont you please save my soul
Trying to find my way home
Kill or be killed is the law in this mad game
Won't you please save my life
I'm not ready to die
Just trying to find my way back to home again
Wont you please save my soul
Trying to find my way home
Kill or be killed is the law in this mad game
Won't you please save my life
I'm not ready to die
Just trying to find my way back to home again
