Your letter came today.
I'm glad to hear the clinic's going ok.
I can, I can, I can, I can, I can see a way.
I can't, I can't, I can't, I can't, I can't see how you'd change.

You exchanged one addiction for another.
You tell me: 'He's reckless, strong, an exciting lover?

Of anyone you should know how it feels
To try to run when they're snapping at your heels.

One for another.
Each for eachother.
I'm so glad that you found one another.

Your letter came today.
When I heard about it him it was like a door closed far away.

You exchanged one addiction for another.
Your bodies came together like they were made for eachother

A truckie in for speed
And a junkie on his knees.

I'm so glad that you are happy, there's no easy fix.
Some get by with holding others, others a cruxifix.
One for another.
Each for eachother.
I'm so glad that you found one another.

March to Victoria.
Head for the border.
Keep your eyes peeled for the first sign of water.

One for another.
Each for eachother.
I'm so glad that you found one another.
