Her name was Sky, her hair was blue
It was the summer of seventy two
And love was magical rush
It was the age of Aquarius

Oh, we were young and we were free
We were living in harmony
Logic was lost in desire
And passion consumed us like fire

[Chorus]
For 6 weeks, 3 days, 22 hours
Love was alive on the precipice
Of the sky on the summer solstice
Oh oh oh
I'm 49 years old and I'm still waiting

And though I know it was long ago
I'm still waiting for love to show
If I keep a clean shaven face
Maybe love will lead me to grace

[Chorus]

I'm waiting here for love to appear
I'm still waiting for you here
I'm waiting here for love to appear

Oh, we were green in field of gold
And we believed that we would never grow old
But time just keeps marching on
On and on and on and on and on and on yeah

[Chorus x2]
