Pick up all the pieces
Trailing behind the ashes
That blow into your face
I see sneering
And I hear screaming
Days that always last late into the evening

Fate does change
Everything moves out of place
Sifting through the remains
I remove the pieces of you

Found there lying a dead trail
Moving like your heart failed
And never told your brain
I am listening to all your voices
I hear them crying
Please don't forget my name

Fate does change
Everyday is exactly the same
Sifting through the remains
I remove the pieces of you
