judging by these written words gives reason to believe an evil spirit rests in that innocent girl
and the markings on her chest could tell a tale love all the lives she's infected with her head in distraught then broken down somewhere in Georgia with the thought of calling this innocent girl, to let her know she's missed well with 6 days, 6 hours, 6 minutes left until she's gone

I realized, who's been with me all this time

innocent girl
and the lying in her eyes could show a sign that underneath human skin is slowly boiling when broken down somewhere in Georgia with the thought of calling this innocent girl, to let her

gone

with the devil burning up, dressed in red who else could this be but the devil herself

counting down, counting down counting, down, counting down, counting down
