Compare me to dynamite with the fuse lit,
Got the mic and I aint afraid to use it,
Beat the beat so hard I'm leaving bruises, I'm in the game and I aint about to lose this, haters say, things to try to make me change, they just being ankle weights when talking bout mistakes I made,
I aint caring anyway to haters man I hate to say that i'mma keep it climbing while you probably going to fade away,
I'mma cut the ties, they weak anyway,
Watch me go to work like every fucking day is Labor Day,
Got them heads turning, drop the beat that hit fast,
switch tracks,
I'mma make you double take, leaving you with whiplash,
I been, showing my colors, it aint really a mystery,
Got a lot of problems so these people treat me differently, like,
insult to injury, but I'm here for the industry, Never going down unless I'm going down in history, Maybe these haters are deaf cause they aint listening, or Maybe don't know how important this music is to me,
This is reality aint no witchcraft and wizardry, Listen cause what I'm spitting is distant from what you bitches see,

I had a list of thee, haters who always dissing me,
But that's gone, aint turning back to the vicious me,
And now they missing me, wishing I'd come back instantly,
Listen don't get it twisted, my mission is to dismiss you freaks,

It may be mean, but nothing you say is clean,
You talking a lot shit so I'll get you some Listerine,

And tell you I don't give a fuck what you think, I'm outta these chains, you won't see me look back for a blink,

So tired of people, most of them are fake or they evil, I'm too sharp homie, you don't want to fuck with a needle,
Either way it don't matter can't reach me on this mountain
all my homies know I wouldn't be here without them, I've walked past all the screaming and the shouting,
I've seen the worst all these demons are astounding
And I have found that friends are like water,
I need some to live but too many and I'll be drowning Tony C, on to a new path,
This one's the first
But it aint the last
Get em
