Trapped in this cage that I hate to call home
Waiting for the day that I die alone
Once again I slip into insanity
Passing out the only time that I feel free
Wander my dreams like a stranger on the street
Lost again no one's waiting for me to meet
When I find a way out my final escape
Paper thin walls... but this map is fake

Nothing is real I now realize
There's nothing waiting for us up the skies
On the outside the windows don't have bars
People have fun fall in love and blow up cars
Hallucinate another miracle
There is no mind inside of this skull
Dirty hands what else is new?
Don't believe in me at least believe in you

Our dreams will all come true someday
Supposedly, everything, eventually
The end of my tunnel doesn't have any light
Just a shadow whispering to give up the fight(give up the fight).
