It's a bloody scene
Hear the population scream
As the missile rushes in

Can't you feel the flames of hell?
Can't you hear the tollin' bell?
It's the sound of the world comin' to an end

Is it too late, too late?
To make the politicians bend
We let the insane play their fools game
They're runnin' a race for death

We want, life, life, life
You'd better pull your head out of the sand
If you want, life, life, life
It's time to break down the chain of command

When will they be satisfied?
After everybody's died?
That's the way it seems to be

Not only the USA
Everybody's to blame
We've got to stop the war machine

Is it too late, too late?
To stop their evil master plan
It's a fools game and a mistake
When they laugh in the face of death

We want, life, life, life
You'd better pull your head out of the sand
If you want, life, life, life
It's time to break down the chain of command

[Incomprehensible]
We want life

That's right we want, life, life, life
You'd better pull your head out of the sand
If you want, life, life, life

It's time to break down the chain of command

We want, life, life, life

You'd better join up with the living

It's time to make a stand for, life, life, life

It's time to break down the chain of command

Is it too late, too late

Too late, too late

Too late, too late

Too late, too late

Too late, too late?
