

Y&T "Wild Child"

Visit "Wild Child" on MotoLyrics.com

This old heart of mine
Has been hurt before
Never seen the truth
Behind your open door

I can't wait that long
To feel your love coming down
I can't wait that long
I've seen it before and there's nowhere to run

Run away, my wild child
Deep in my heart I know you'll stay
Lay you out an in a while
You will make love to satisfy my need

It's just another morning
I fell awake at dawn
Your body close to mine
In absence will I find

I can't wait that long
To feel your love coming down
I can't wait that long
I've seen it before and there's nowhere to run
