

Softlightes, The "The Microwave Song"

Visit "The Microwave Song" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm just a light boy
Looking for a lighter day
And it's a cold wet Wednesday
We had days in the sun
But they added up to none
It's just the fate of the atomic age

There were lights in my head
But they lost their place
I'm not good enough for Saturdays
We had days in the sun
But they added up to none
It's just the fate of the atomic age

I am just a microwave (x6)

I think I've heard these words before
They made me blue
I'm looking at you from your tennis shoe
But I'm stuck to the sound
Of your merry-go-round
You're just a beautiful kind of blue

I am just a microwave (x6)

And there's a lot of us (x3)
And there's a lot of us, of us, of us

I am just a microwave (x12)

Visit Softlightes, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.