First he said he loved you, he promised you he'd be true

Then he was unfaithful, word got back to you

Tonight when he came calling, you wouldn't let him in

Now your tears are fallin and you swear they'll never end

(Chorus)

But cryin ain't dying, losin' ain't forever

It's kind of like the weather, it changes everyday

You learned yourself a lesson, 'Bout loving and lying

But you will live to love again Cause crying ain't dying

Even though he hurt you, he's still the one you want

You're gonna feel this way till the day you don't

You can pull the shades down, grieve what's gone before

But you can't keep tomorrow from walkin' through that door

(Chorus)

But you will live to love again crying ain't dying

You will live to love again cause crying ain't dying
