(Annie Lennox)

Darling, are you feeling the same thing that I'm seeing?
The troubles of the day took my breath away, took my breath away.
Now, you're no longer talking and I'm no longer hearing.
There's nothing left to say, said it anyway, said it anyway.

And I want you not, I need you not, I'm dying 'cause
This is the saddest song I've got, the saddest song I've got.

Darling, are you healing from all those scars appearing?
And don't it hurt a lot? Don't know how to stop.
Don't know how it stops.
Now, there's no sense in seeing the colors of the morning.
Can't hold the clouds at bay, chase them all away,
chase them all away.

And I'm frozen still, unspoken still, hearts broken
Remembering something I forgot, something I forgot.
