"Colors Of Insomnia"

I want to live my life,
But I'm learning more and more
That my whole world's a life
Problems made for their solution
To take away more rights
Engineer a war to breed you power

I cannot deny the existence
I will not subside need for justice

Liar, he's all gunfire
In deception, sugar coated lie
All in the crossfire,
Just how they want us
Puppet-strung on lies and now the truth is

A stranger in our eyes

Rape me and my conviction
Sedate me more and more till I can't see the shores
Take what you were not given
From those you could not scare
World police for peace or global conquest?

the men they love to watch them drown
And their next stop is your home town
Won't you save your sons?
