bad timing
pictures clutter this room i have these spaces waiting to fill, waiting for you this isn't what was sold to me my dreams in glossy rectangles this isn't what was suppose to be but i know, yeah i know i still have marks you gave me one to remember one to forget tapered red lines won't streak so i'll wait till hell freezes
which one are you
i know you better
do you still wrestle in your sleep now i can count these bruises
i know you better
i know this isn't the place to be no its not the place to be
