"A New Morning"

Visit "A New Morning" on MotoLyrics.com

Awake, I choose to drop my past
Escape its hold
The reign of guilt and fear won't last
Declares my soul

A wave of courage, hope and light
Breaks through the dark
Returns the beauty to each night
And leaves its mark

For a life worth living
I shall be forgiving
And I ask
Ask myself who am I now
No more of who I thought I was Embrace my truth, even allow
My heart to feel my flaws

A stillness in the distance
At the end of all resistance
I will remember joy
The taste of a new morning
The breath of freedom dawning
My body just a toy

A stillness in the distance
At the end of all resistance
I will remember joy
The taste of a new morning
The breath of freedom dawning
My body just a toy
