Gauntlets

Thrown one by one

See how

They run

And when the check doesn't clear

And it's time to pay the bill

Some are gonna ride it out

Some can't and they never will

'Cause it's a great big world calling you

to take a ride

And it's a great big world singing come

and see and come inside

Oh yeah a great big world reminding

you you're not alone

So hold on this great big world we only get to rent we never get to own

Inches fill a yard stick

Feet slowly walk a mile

Make one move then another

And then you try to live a while Keep your head and you might make it
But that ain't no guarantee
'Cause it takes debt and obligation To Fly around so free

And it's a great big world calling you
to take a ride
And it's a great big world singing come
and see and come inside
Oh yeah a great big world reminding
you you're not alone
So hold on this great big world we only
get to rent we never get to own

Whatcha gonna do first
And where will you make your mark
How are you going to get there
And can you find a place to park Seasons coming slowly
But still they always come
And then it feels like just a second
And then suddenly you're done

And it's a great big world reminding you you're not alone

And it's a great big world we only get to rent we never get to own

'Cause it's a great big world calling you

to take a ride

you you're not alone
