Tell me those lies I love to hear
Tell me I'm the only one
And let my silent lips be mine to keep
Tell me those lies with hard grinding teeth
Protect me from my violent self,
And you could be the one I'll ever need
So blush my skin with your bare hand
So you can have the comfort to call me weak
I'll be laying awake at night,
And I will never let you go to sleep
I want you to feed me right now
Feed me with my broken heart,
And let my blistered mouth be mine to keep
So tell me those lies I want to hear
Tell me I'm the only one
Tell me I'm the only one you've had
Why won't you blush my skin with your bare hand
So you can have the comfort to call me weak
I'll be laying awake at night,
And I will never let you go to sleep
Blush my skin with your bare hand
So you can have the comfort to call me weak
I'll be laying awake at night,
And I will never let you go to sleep
I will never let you go to sleep
Why won't you let me sleep?
I will never let you sleep
