Dancing days are here again
As the summer evenings grow
I got my flower, I got my power
I got a man who knows

I said its alright, you know its alright
I guess its all in my heart
You'll be my only, my one and only
Is that the way it should start?

Crazy ways are evident
In the way that you're wearing your clothes
Sippin' drinks is precedent
As the evening starts to glow

I said its alright, you know its alright
I guess its all in my heart
You'll be my only, my one and only
Is that the way it should start?

You told my momma you'd get me home
But you didn't tell her you had no car
I saw a lion he was standing alone
With a tadpole in a jar

I said its alright, you know its alright
I guess its all in my heart
You'll be my only, my one and only
Is that the way it should start?

Dancing days are here again
As the summer evenings grow
You are my flower, you are my power
You are my man who knows

I said its alright, you know its alright
I guess its all in my heart
You'll be my only, my one and only
Is that the way it should start?
