Dear faith i'm coming slowly now to life
When all expression seems to die
Morning wake i've chosen better not to lie
Will you carry me away
So bitter now
As the atmosphere destroys our chemisry
I'm deafened by your silence
Burnt by this changing destiny
And i wait
But tonight I'll grind my teeth away
Your memories,you're ghost is here with me and
The air is thick with silence
it tastes so bittersweet
In the agony (the agony)
of self-destruction
Stolen confidence in words i'll never speak
You've let me down
And i die in self-defeat
And when tomorrow comes
If i don't wake with tears upon my face
Have i let you down or have you only let me go

The air is thick with silence
It tastes so bittersweet
In the agony (the agony)
of self-destruction
Stolen confidence in words i'll never speak
You've let me down
And i die in self-defeat
And i'll cry for you
And i will cry for you
And i'll cry for you
On weakened knees
Guess this is what you decided for me
And the ending feels Like broken glass
That cuts my heart
I'm folding now into my arms
And in my solice i'm dying for you(for you)
I'm dying for you
I'm dying for you..
