Some called him a prophet

Some called him a saint

Some couldn't believe their eyes or the words he had to say

Some called him crazy

Some thought he was strange

But I have felt his touch and I'll never be the same

Chorus

I call him love

I call him mercy

I called him out of my darkness and pain

And he answered my need

I call him love

I call him healing

He is the one who has filled me with hope

And restored life to me

I call him love

Some call him a mystery

A power without a face

Some feel He's a distant father

That they could not embrace

But I have felt his touch and I'll never be the same

Chorus

Cause he reached out to me

I'm overwhelmed by the grace I have received

Chorus
