

Zao

"The Last Song From Zion"

Visit "The Last Song From Zion" on MotoLyrics.com

His shadow floats upon the earth
Casting a song from the north
Yeshua weeps the Zion's song
Thy will of man, my kingdom gone

You, you place all your hatred upon my throne
Your hands they form, they form your own path
Curse the one that has, has made you
I see Cain in all your eyes

I am laying down to go to sleep forever
I do not hide my face in shame at all
I do not cower before your blade
This is what your black heart pray

Time, it moves as slow, as slow as the ocean's tide
Neon explosion in the haggard sky
No sun shall set, lest we forget
Man's will be done

I am laying down to go to sleep forever
I do not hide my face in shame at all
I do not cower before your blade
This is what your black heart pray

The last Lamb, the last hope
The last song from Zion
The last Lamb, the last hope
The last song from Zion

The last Lamb, the last hope
The last song from Zion
The last Lamb, the last hope
The last song from Zion

Visit Zao page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.