Taking chances, and your reputation's going down,
Going out in the night time, good thing you made no sound.

But you don't fool me, 'cause I know what you feel.
If you ignore the things I see, someday soon's gonna Find you way down on Beggar's Farm.

I pay my money, for no returns,
I think I need you, gonna find someone.
Oh, you don't fool me, 'cause I know what you feel.
When you go wild and I ask you why, I won't worry
When I see you lyin' down on Beggar's Farm.

But you're on to me, gonna turn away.
Won't even listen when you try to say
That you were only foolin' around, 'cause I know what you feel.
But if you ask me nicely, woman, I'll wake up early one day soon
And I'll visit you down on Beggar's Farm
