I can't deny you are the one
Who leaves my mind undone
You do the strangest things to me
Just take a look and see
Since the day you're gone
I can't be sure what I have done
Should we really be together
Will this carry on forever
Can't seem to make up my mind about you
Can't seem to live here alone without you
So we start
And we stop
But then we start again
I could compare you to the sun
Your love comes shining down
But something I have had to learn
If I come too close I burn
Since the day your gone
I can't be sure what I have done
Should we really be together
Will this carry on forever

Can't seem to make up my mind about you

Can't seem to live here alone without you

So we start

But we stop

We're both insane

I can't seem to make up my mind about you

Can't seem to live here alone without you

So we start

And we stop

But then we start again
