Why are we here all alone
With nobody here to tell us what to do
Everybody here could tell you how
But not why
All of your life

Why were we put here by the sun
With nobody here to tell us why it burns
Lots of people here could tell you how
But not why
All of your life

Why were we put here
Waiting for the end
Ahhha
Your angel's coming down

You better believe in something
Right before you die baby
Ahhha
Your angel's coming down

You looking for an answer
But you're getting no reply baby
Ahhha
Your angel's coming down, down.....

On your knees before you get too old
Count the cost before you lose your soul
Don't you question God before you die
Because all you'll hear is how but never why

Be a good soul let your prayers surround you
It's comfort that your reason can't control
All you have is faith that'll get you thru
And you're wondering "Why"?

Tell me how do you feel
Cause I'm losing my mind
Is this only a dream till we're gone
With no answers to "Why"?

Solo

Why are we here all alone
Praying love creates immortal souls
All the love within you tells you how
And why
All of your life
