Stay here now,
I haven't finished figuring you out
I'd like to butter you up to your eyes
before the first time the sun comes up.

The soft sound of your voice makes me wrangle with all of my fears and I 'm a little bit undone I'm a drink beyond knowing a good time to run

In the confusion of desire I'm forgetting that I've got a ring on my hand but now the memories come back and I suddenly notice that you're not my man

Stay here now,
I haven't finished figuring you out
before the first time the sun comes up

do I not have a choice?

to go home now,
to go home now

Cuz I'm outta my mind and I don't wanna wake up all covered in shame so I'll sit here a while and I'll make up my mind as you're holding my hand

Stay here now,
I haven't finished figuring you out
before the first time the sun comes up

go home now
go home now..
