Havana moon, fade away too soon
Havana moon, fade away too soon

The first time I saw you
You where low in the sky
Just a-hanging there like you do
Found myself alone with my hands in my pocket
Baby, just looking at you
Havana moon, Havana moon

I saw you lying underneath the covers
Of a sky blanket of blue
You caught my eye, I thought you were shy
So I started making the moves
Tell me what you want, maybe I'm wanting it too
Tell me what you need, maybe I'm needing it too
Havana moon

Tell me all the stories of broken hearted lovers
And how you watched them cry
It won't be me, well I promise you baby
'Cause, Oh you know I'll never lie
To Havana moon, fade away too soon
Havana moon, Havana moon

Well, the last time I saw you
You were low in the sky
Just a-saying goodbye like you do
Many days, many memories
I'll spend dreaming of you
Havana moon, Havana moon
Havana moon, fade away too soon
Fade away too soon
Havana moon, Havana moon
