Loneliness has called my name
Tracked me down
Caused me lots of pain
Oh the days don't seem the same
Since loneliness called my name

She left me on a southbound train
Packed her suitcase, I cried in vain
And as I asked for one chance more
The engineer said all aboard

[Chorus]
For the lonely ones
All aboard for loves discarded ones
It's a one way ticket friends
Where the heartache never ends
All aboard

The steam filled the southern sky
It enveloped me as I said goodbye
Then the steam turned to rain
The one I love is on that southbound train

I followed those lonesome old tracks home
With every step my thoughts did roam
And as I lie awake in bed
Lonely echoes danced in my head

The steam filled the southern sky
It enveloped me as I said goodbye
And as I asked for one chance more
The engineer said all aboard

All aboard
All aboard
All aboard
