It's time to get this thing sorted out right now.
The mess is bigger than you really know.
It's only time to think a little clearer.
Before you let it all, up and go.

It may feel a little colder, but I know it's over.
Do not need a stronger shoulder, cos I learn, I'm older.
Got to see a little further, the good times are coming back to me.

My mind is numb and sore from all this thinking.
An echo rings inside my aching bones.
If only I could free the intense pressure.
Then I could see exactly where to go.

It may feel a little colder, but I know it's over.
Do not need a stronger shoulder, cos I learn, I'm older.
Got to see a little further, the good times are coming back to me.

Intensity has grown and made it harder.
Sometimes I'd like to see a helping hand.
To take away the pain, and make it easy.
But this will not arrive, because it can't.

It may feel a little colder, but I know it's over.
Do not need a stronger shoulder, cos I learn, I'm older.
It may feel a little colder, but I know it's over.
Do not need a stronger shoulder, cos I learn, I'm older.
Got to see a little further, the good times are coming back to me.
