I guess that one more time
I've been thinking of you
So alone

And thinking it all out right
I dream of you too
I love you

And you got your freedom
Your own things to do
But you're not coming home

An explanation for I love you
The reason why you went away
An explanation for I love you
Not enough for you to stay

I crawled and waste my time
With pictures of you
I forgive you

I know it will remain
Just so much from you
I know you

And you got your freedom
Your own sins to pay
But there's nobody home

An explanation for I love you
The reason why you went away
An explanation for I love you
Not enough for you to stay
