It's daybreak
And you are asleep
I can hear you breathe now
Your breath is so deep
But before I go
I look at you one last time
I can hear a heartbeat
Is it yours or is it mine
I look at your lips
I know how soft they can be
Do they know what they wanted
The times they kissed me
And your hands
I held in mine
Now they're reposing on the pillow
Will they ever miss me sometime

I'll remember you
You will be there in my heart
I'll remember you
That's all that I can do
And I'll remember

Your eyes
That always makes me shiver
Now they are closed
They do sometimes twitch although
And your body
I could own for an hour
It sent me to heaven
With it's speed and power

I'll remember you
You will be there in my heart
I'll remember you
That's all that I can do
And I'll remember
