Blacked out fallen on the floor tonight
That's what I do to feel the light You tell the open line that draws me in Every time I sink a little lower in the deep tonight
I don't remember anything I used to like about you and why I always let you in.

And as the saying goes, don't let your enemies
become friends
For the record, I never wanted this
For the record, I wish we never met and opened up this mess
I couldn't keep up so we cracked down
And now everything is worse
I should have known I'm better off on the floor alone
Sometimes closure doesn't close up anything at all.

Roughed up rolling in the afterglow, my dark mistakes they start to show You operate the spotlight I bathe in Every time I put a little faith in my hopelessness
I recall why I'm such a wreck about you and how you never let me win

And as the saying goes, don't let your enemies
become friends
For the record, I never wanted this
For the record, I wish we never met and opened up this
I couldn't keep up so we cracked up
And now everything is worse
I should have known, I'm better off on the floor alone
Sometimes closure doesn't close anything at all.

All you ever did was use me like a puppet Stringing me along just to let me lose Giving me a choice so I had to choose All I ever did was put it in the open Giving up a chance to shut you down
You took it as a chance to shut me up

For the record, I never wanted this
For the record, I wish we never met and opened up this
I couldn't keep up so we cracked down
And now everything is worse
I should I have known, I'm better off on the floor alone Sometimes closure doesn't close out anything at all Yeah, sometimes closure doesn't close up anything at all.
