

Spleen, The

"Deploy the blue"

It is not the fact I did not like the Ice Country
But to detract your lack of glee I needed more than sympathy
The broken march will wait for us you will see
The faded rose has grown like me but I won't let it worry

'Cause
You were walking on glass
When I tried to break the impasse
Now I pierce the sky for you
I deploy the blue

Now please just let me take your hand in Morocco Or anywhere you want to go, I just want you to feel the glow
The faded rose has grown like me but I won't let it

'Cause
You were walking on glass
When I tried to break the impasse
Now I pierce the sky for you
I deploy the blue

I've tried to blaze the hours before it gets harder
Tell me we won't lose view of each other soon
Tell me
