Another day, people walking people
crying life is pain.
Nothing to prove the people loose.
This world is dirty, this world is what I see.
The days follow each other and they look the same.
This seems to be so normal, change it all or it may be too late...
See and hear the drain flows down a useful thing, we need it for living.
People thread on this, and they don't care,
I walk on this and I really care.
Always divide to prove nothing (3x).
Always divided to prove your says
The past seems like the future, present looks like nothing.
Life is not a game, human greed is to blame.
The tears of someone makes the other rich.
Do nothing to die, do nothing to help.
