Little birds, little stars
Flying circles 'round their hearts
Little kiss, little stares
Who's watching and who cares

So beautifully fragile and so sure
If only for the moment then no more

He's in love she's love
He's in love she's in love

Little breaks, little bends Chip away and fence you in Little words can't take back
Not even sorry changes that

So terribly tragic when it's crashing down
What happened to the magic
That you thought you'd found

He's in love she's love
He's in love she's in love

It pulls you in and cuts you through
Your head says, "no"
But you're going to Ask me how I know it's true
That's the way I looked at you

He's in love she's love
He's in love she's in love

I wonder how they met - what color was her dress?
How long will she cry when he says goodbye
When will he get scared and leave her standing there?
He might have regrets, she might wish they'd never met
Ask me how I know it's true, cuz that's the way it was with you
