CHORUS:

Thousands and thousands of hours with her
Did he throw them all away?
Thousands and thousands of hours with her
Disappear in a single day.

She said something inside of her has broken
Her memory doesn't make her feel the same.
Any warmth on display is just a token
Of her hard driving heart, what a shame.

REPEAT CHORUS

He tries to call her up, get information
Tries to understand her quick escape.
But his input doesn't reach it's destination
She can't be prompted to try to save those

REPEAT CHORUS

BRIDGE:

He was hoping for recovery, hoping for the key
To retrieve her love and their intimacy.
But when he tries to read her, she's empty and cold
Five years has gotten just a little bit too old.

REPEAT CHORUS

He figured out the password was devotion
That made his every entry authorized
But when he tried to access her emotion
She booted him and headed for the clear blue skies
