CHORUS:

Unbutton your heart and let her in Unzip the secrets hiding within Unbuckle the feelings locked inside
Unbutton your heart

Her lingering voice as they hang up the phone
Stirring up images of being alone with her
But he changes the channel, he changes the plot
The movie's too scary, though he likes it a lot with her
But he's been burned by love before
He's afraid of walking through that fiery door

REPEAT CHORUS

She's full of smiles and ready for love
He's the kind of man she's been dreaming of in those sweet songs
And she'll talk and talk and say all sorts of things
He listens and loves the way she sings those sweet songs
And even thought she's his biggest fan,
He still hides the cards he's holding in his hand.

REPEAT CHORUS

She's getting to be a real good friend
Will he board the train coming round the bend with her Cause the whistle's blowing on the train of romance
Will he say good-bye or will he take a chance with her
Then this thought goes through his mind
"You better pay your way or she'll leave you far behind"
