"The Wreckery"

While we derail, I look back on time
With every detail serving to remind
Through tears she cried
Deny you are the wreckery
But I can't lie

I need to see the image near to me
I want to set your heart alight
And if we make it through the wreckery
Who's gonna take you home tonight

We are glass, I see through you she said
We break when we take mystery to bed
I hear her cry deny you are the wreckery
But I can't lie

I need to see the image near to me
I want to set your heart alight
And if we make it through the wreckery
Who's gonna take you home tonight

Behold the wreckery will take control tonight
Oh, and in the wake we either break or reach the end
Alright

You are the wreckery
You are the wreckery
You are the wreckery
You are the wreckery
