I touched your face last night
I still can't believe it's true
That you're gone, now
I can't say goodbye
But you're in love with someone new How could you leave me like that?
I won't cry if it makes you feel better

I won't cry if it won't last forever
won't last forever
I'll just try to hold on hold on

There will be sunshine after the rain
There will be blue skies a-coming
Blue skies are coming my way

I won't ask you why
Maybe I have been to good
To good to you

Love comes tumbling down
It hurts a little more each time
How could you leave me behind

I won't cry if it makes you feel better
makes you feel better
I won't cry if it won't last forever
forever
I'll just try to hold on
I'll just try to hold on

There will be sunshine after the rain
There will be blue skies a-coming
Blue skies are coming my way

I know that we could be together
I know that we could last forever
Blue skies a-coming Blue skies a-coming our way

Sunshine, sunshine

Blue skies, blue skies
