i'll do anything you want i helped you make the right decision i gave you something soft to land on the way down been sleeping under water holding my breath til you came along you walk around the corner carry me home to where i belong hey how does it feel
once in a life time
two may find each other hey nothing's for real now that the search is over two together and you know you're the one (know you're the one) you do anything that i want you only have to breathe to move me you try to take the load off when i'm weighed down been sleeping under water
two together and you know your the one (know your the one)
i needed love you gave it to me warm like the sun you give and you give your lifting the world around you
two together
