Well it's a great big world thats filled with dissapointment We're maggots in the ointment just squirming to get free. And now the futures got much more than you can handle Don't try to light a candle Let's curse the misery
And as we head for certain doom, don't give up so soon
Till every one of us is dead and a vengeful Armageddon has arrived

Cuz we'll have a drink and throw a parade. And greet the rapture screaming "Hooray!"
And hope someone jumps on a grenade. But no one will. We'll all be killed and we will thrill as blood is spilled. And even the bravest of us run away. We'll all get laid

Cuz you still got dreams that havent been pissed on.
And you still got things that you'll never get done And you'll keep on running like a rat on a wheel. And keep on wondering what is the deal What was the point? And how come it ends this way?
Well no one knows, we've only got today And as the lights go dim, don't think is all so grim. At least we all go out together heading off to never-never land

Cuz we'll have a drink and throw a parade. And greet
the rapture screaming "Hooray!"
And hope someone jumps on a grenade. But no one will. We'll all be killed and we will thrill as blood is spilled. And even the bravest of us run away. We'll all get laid

We'll all get laid.
