I've found myself
In the woods made of my dreams
Trying to find
The bird that used to sing
To sing a song
About my love, about my life
About the one
One should you lose
You'll never find

I never thought
I could be your possession
You were a dream
But became my obsession
You used to make me smile
Make me laugh,
Now you feel like
I haven't cried enough
O-o-oh, will you take me

With you, my dreambird?
We could take along the sunrise
And fly to brand new life,

Wish people knew what is it like
To be daring enough to realise
Wings we need to fly
They'll find in each other's hearts!
O-o-oh, la la la la la la la,
