Now everything looks gray to me
I ain't the same person that I used to be Either when I close my eyes.
All I see is rainy skyes.

Why can't we talk this over now
We shouldn't be were we are
The things you heard, I never meant to say those things
That made you walk away

I know there will be a future
But it's gonna.. yeah, it's gonna take time
The sun shine on the other side
But how will I get there?

Why can't we talk this over now
We shouldn't be were we are
The things you heard, I never meant to say those
That made you walk away

I ain't gonna barry my self
I'm gonna raise my head and be strong

Why can't we talk this over now
We shouldn't be were we are
The things you heard, I never meant to say those
That made you walk away

Why can't we talk this over now
We shouldn't be were we are
The things you heard, I never meant to say those
things
That made you walk away
