

Steeldrivers, The

"To Be With You Again"

Visit "To Be With You Again" on MotoLyrics.com

I cannot wait for dawn to break

I must be on my way

Before I pass this way again

Be many a dog, dog days

The sheriff does not know my face

He does not know my name

But before the sun goes down again

He?ll know them just the same

One kiss before I leave you

And one more for the wind

Every day I hope and pray

To be with you again

With the poor man's word and a rich man's gold

Who?s chances would you choose?

The judge and jury close their eyes

And justice don?t come through

I?ll run from what I haven?t done

'Cause the long arm of the law

Got a silver spade that?ll dig my grave

Before on us all

One kiss before I leave you

And one more for the wind
Every day I hope and pray
To be with you again
Down along the railroad tracks
Waitin' in the weeds
The first freight train to leave the yard
Will be the one I'm in
I'll find a place on the boxcar roof
Where the wind cuts cold and deep
I don't know need no railroad man
To catch me in my sleep
One kiss before I leave you
And one more for the wind
Every day I hope and pray
To be with you again
To be with you again

Visit Steeldrivers, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.