we started out it seems measuring time but who knows what time brings only death and lies
if i could breathe
i'd breathe just like you there's no reason to believe that we can't move on

i can't get enough
of your body tears me up but sometimes at night girl we fall alone yes we fall alone
if i could breathe

roll away and fill the sky don't hide away girl your body makes me high if your dreams can come true i can do it for you it's just you i look forward to your chin is black from tears you can't hold back these waterfalls from you are just pouring out you're just raining down if i could breathe i'd breathe just like you
