"Fade Away"

i remember you you're the one that i would run to when shit got deep we'd drink all night sit and sing around the fire's bright hell yeah we felt free we'd make our escape blinded by these simple waves in our lives it's time to grow and we will be binded by our memories and still we'll be the same we'll fade away fade away from trouble today until we get weak and we'll rise above until push comes to shove my best friends and me dance with me above the city drink with me not to be empty

we'd run away spend all day out on the lake talking about evolution can't explain the care we share underneath these truths we bare you're the reason i sing i'm dreaming we're leaving i'll see you again will you remember friend?
