

Armageddon "Asteriod Dominion"

We are all in a state of mourning
Grieving the ones who did not survive
We perform a ceremony for dead
As their caskets float away into space
But we know we've got to keep going
Pushing forward into dark universe
On a mission to rescue our race
Secure the future of our kind
Asteroid dominion
The star or our fantasies and dreams
Asteroid dominion
Shining so bright
Asteroid dominion

Evrything is a circle constantly moving ahead
Somewhere out there we will find our own utopia
A new for future generations
Legends in our own lifetime
A fresh start without degeneration
A brave new world
Unto a land flowing with milk and honey
Beyond the known universe
In a hidden galaxy, a sacred sanctum for you and me
I'm praying for a peaceful existence
As unlikely as that may seem
Tell me what good is man... without his dreams?
