Wash-n-wear, simplest of things
What can make your heart want to sing
Like the day - dc came to town
You were standing there - didn't care
That the rain was pouring down
Things are better than they seem
There's no ending to the dream
We all know that god is good
Everything will turn out right
As we walk into the light
We all know that god is good
Nevermind - if it seems surreal
Don't get hung up on what you feel
In my head - i can hear a tune
So much sweeter than a lullabye
Sleep tight kids 'cause god is good
And . . .

Things are better than they seem
There's no ending to the dream
We all know that god is good
Everything will turn out right
As we walk into the light
We all know that god is good
I should choose the words i say
And the message i convey
I'll make it clear - so don't get me wrong
Things are better than they seem
There's no ending to the dream
We all know that god is good
Everything will turn out right
As we walk into the light
We all know that god is good
