England arise! Join in the chorus!
It is a new made song you should be singing.
See in the skies, flutt'ring before us what the bright bird of peace is bringing!
See upon our smiling land where the wealths of nations stand where prosperity and industry walk ever hand in hand.
Where so many blessings crowd,
'tis our duty to be proud.
Up and answer, English Yeoman,
sing it joyfully aloud.
Evermore upon our country
God will pour his rich increase,
And victorious in war shall be made glorious in peace,
And victorious in war shall be made glorious in peace.

See each one do what he can to further God's almighty plan.
The beneficence of heaven help the skilfulness of man.
Ev'ry garner fill'd with grain, Ev'ry meadow blest with rain:
Rich and fertile is the golden corn that bear and bears
again.

Where so many blessings crowd,
'Tis our duty to be proud.
Up and answer, fellow Britons,
sing it joyfully aloud.

Evermore upon our country
God will pour his rich increase
And victorious in war shall be made glorious in peace,
